

PROGRAM

HEALTH & ENVIRONMENT SEMINAR SERIES 2011

The Health & Environment Department of the AIT Austrian Institute of Technology invites you to the Health & Environment Seminar Series 2011

HEALTH & ENVIRONMENT SEMINAR SERIES 2011

The HEALTH & ENVIRONMENT SEMINAR SERIES features lectures and discussions with leading scientists referring to the research areas Sensing Life and Sensing Nature.

Sensing Life - Healthcare devices and systems to meet the future needs of an aging society and Sensing Nature - Bio-analytical tools to overcome the future shortage of environmental resources.

Supported by

NILaustria

SIEMENS ERBER AG

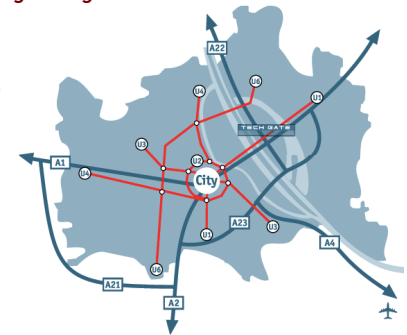

life science austria
vienna region

For additional information about the series please contact
Susanne Kiefer (phone: +43 50550 4406)
Please registrate under: susanne.kiefer@ait.ac.at

Date Wednesdays and Thursdays, 3.30 pm
afterwards buffet and get-together

Place Tech Gate,
Conference Room 0.3
Donau-City Straße 1,
1220 Vienna

PROGRAM

- 24th February 2011 John Cockcroft, Wales Heart Research Institute, Cardiff, UK
Central blood pressure in the management of cardiovascular disease; A paradigm shift
- 6th April 2011 Jurriaan Huskens, University of Twente, Enschede, NL
Molecular nanofabrication: functional nanostructures by integrated lithography-assembly processes
- 4th May 2011 Bernd Pichler, University of Tübingen, Germany
Preclinical and translational imaging in oncology, neurology and immunology
- 14th September 2011 Olaf Kruse, University Bielefeld, Germany
Sun to fuel conversion with microalgae as an alternative biomass
- 19th October 2011 Jim Germida, University of Saskatchewan, Canada
Application of phytoremediation technologies in Canada
- 16th November 2011 Willem de Vos, Wageningen UR, NL
Microbes inside